Kitsumkalum Takes Conservation Seriously

Kitsumkalum Fish & Wildlife did not issue a Food, Social & Ceremonial (FSC) fishing permit to the individual who has been boasting about his gillnet FSC Fishery with pictures on social media. The individual in question is not a member of Kitsumkalum Band and has not been authorized to carry out a FSC fishery under the Kitsumkalum FSC Fishery.

The Skeena River is shut down for the recreational fishery for Chinook salmon, but remains open for a Chinook FSC fishery in accordance with section 35 of the Canadian Constitution.

Kitsumkalum Fish & Wildlife takes conservation seriously and does not condone fishing without a permit or the sale of fish.
